

Further reading list

In July 2015, Jacaranda Development published the first pocket book on social pedagogy in the UK. It was written for a wide audience, to include practitioners, carers, social workers, care staff, managers, funders and so on.

The pocket book aims to provide the reader with a concise introduction to social pedagogy and be a springboard for further exploration.

The pocket book provides references to publications and authors we cite in the book. In addition here we provide an extended, though not all-encompassing reading list, to provide you with suggestions to continue your learning journey.

If you have any questions or would like to purchase the pocket book please contact Abby on abby@jacaranda-development.co.uk
